what other countries do, the United States remained true to the Olympic code and spirit.

In other areas in the past three years we have had all too few moments to inspire pride. Those Americans who do enjoy those moments might have been better pleased had the Olympic Games been left completely out of power politics. It is sad commentary on our present influence and strength that our sole defensive weapon seems to be our summer Olympic team consisting of our finest youth dedicated to competition on a plane far above the petty and the small.

The Olympics are a glimpse of an idealism that might exist among people if they could freely mingle and exchange energy and ideas. These competitors, so dedicated that they train intensively for 4 years to attain the edge needed for one competition, deserve better than to have that chance denied.

In the opinion of many, President Carter's decision to use the Olympics as a weapon is among the many of his administration's errors. It is to the Russians' credit that they are not punishing their own youth. They are competing in the Winter Games and are being applauded by Americans just as they should be for excellence that transcends national origin or ideology.

Any child born in the year 1975 is eligible to enroll in kindergarten. Parents should bring a birth certificate or a notarized memorandum with them on registration day. A doctor's memorandum showing the following immunizations is required for school entrance:

1. DPT; 2. Oral Sabin Polio Vaccine; 3. Measles; 4. Rubella (German Measles); 5. Mumps.

If the required immunizations are incomplete for medical or religious reasons, a statement from a doctor or church official stating the reasons for exemption should be presented when registering.

A record of the child's growth and development may be helpful, such as a baby book or some other record.

On the day of registration parents will be briefed on the Kindergarten Screening Program which will take place March 25th, 26th and 27th.

If a child is shown on the 1975 census, parents should have received a letter notifying them of the registration dates. If you recently have moved to Mattapoisett and have not received such a letter, please call Center School office, 758-2521.

Since screening for kindergarten is now a state mandated requirement for entrance to kindergarten, it is requested that you do not bring your child with you on the day of registration.

EVERETT S. ALLEN TO SPEAK-GUEST NIGHT

We are delighted to be able to present Mr. Everett S. Allen as our speaker at our monthly meeting, February 28th. Mr. Allen will present a review of his new book, "The Black Ships". This narrative deals with the rumrunners of prohibition, and as the jacket of his book states "Daredeviltry, nerve, seamanship - it was all a game with good pay for the successful. Their period of activity will go down in American history as a colorful episode outranking even that of the pirates who ravaged our coasts in times gone by." The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church Hall.

KNOW THE ENEMY

Drugs and alcohol are insidious enemies about which too few adults appear to be adequately informed. It is only when it touches our lives or to effect timely legislation that we realize how uninformed we are. Unfortunately, being informed enough to even recognize the enemy is often difficult because as soon as you think you recognize him, marijuana reappears as "angel-dust" (PCP), or cocaine (coke) or quaaludes or any of the many others easily available in just about every town.

YOU can be informed on March 19, you can meet the enemy.

At Old Rochester Regional Junior High, at 7:30 p.m., an expert panel of speakers will be available to answer your questions and tell you WHAT IS GOING ON in our towns. This is being sponsored by the Parent Group of O.R.R.H.S. and O.R.R. J.H.S.

There will be an Open House at Loft School for any prospective parents and children on Tuesday, February 26th, at 10 a.m.

The Loft is an independent co-operative nursery school with programs for three and four year olds. The co-operative concept of the Loft eliminates the "profit motive" and places the best interests of the child as the most important goal of the school. This also allows parents to be directly involved in the school through a rotating mother-helper system which provides observation and helps parent-teacher communication.

ROCHESTER BOWLING LEAGUE-FEB. 12

Filled with powers of Bezuzu, Danny Schroth (400) held Nanfelt's Minks and Charlie Jefferson (343) spellbound and Marion Golf whisked away two points. Ed Strawn (355) helped Guaranteed Pest Control mix their own brand of magic to stir up Sturtevant and Hook for two points (Charlie Weller 330). Jerry Bourassa (378) ignored Raegan's antics and untracked BowlMor. Bob Jefferson's 372 did little to stop a whitewash job by Bourassa Hardware. Paul White's (409) evil eye held Hartley's Mill at bay as Herb's T.V. captured two points and a 692 high team single. Henry Hartley's 431 was high for the millers.

Whaling Museum

An exhibition showing "Man's Changing View of the Whale" will open Sunday, March 9th, at the New Bedford Whaling Museum.

The exhibition, chosen from the Museum's permanent collection, will range from an early 16 C. print to modern paintings by Richard Ellis. It is fascinating to follow man's changing perception of the whale as his first-hand encounter with the giant mammals became more frequent.

The exhibition will continue through mid-May. The Museum is open Monday - Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and on Sundays from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Admission is charged and children under six are free.

In conjunction with the opening of this exhibition, William E. Schevill, one of the country's foremost whale biologists, will present a lecture, illustrated with film clips, at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, March 9th, in the Museum Theater.

Mr. Schevill will examine various aspects of the research now being done on the whale populations along our southeastern Massachusetts shores. His talk will be illustrated with film clips.

Affiliated with the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Harvard since 1928, and the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute since 1943, Mr. Schevill has been conducting whale research since 1945. His publications cover a wide range of whale topics, as he writes for layman and scholar alike.

This program is free for members and there will be a charge for non-members.

W.H.A.L.E. Auction

FORTHCOMING! The Fourth Annual Auction for W.H.A.L.E. (Waterfront Historic Area League) is coming again, this year on April 12th at the First Baptist Church, New Bedford.

Auction co-chairmen Mrs. H. K. Goddard and Mrs. Philip Dechert, both of Dartmouth, met last week with auction committee members in New Bedford to announce plans for this year's event.

At the meeting, John K. Bullard, WHALE agent, described the annual fund-raiser as a time of bringing WHALE and its efforts toward New Bedford's revitalization into the public eye. It is also, he continued, a gratifying time when WHALE members and supporters traditionally join to contribute time, services and articles to the auction.

Last year's auction grossed well over $13,000 for WHALE, with furniture, framed ships' papers, watercolors and a model of a J Boat Cup Defender garnering top dollar. Tom Corey of Swain School has designed the 1980 Forthcoming Fourth Annual Auction for WHALE poster, to be unveiled within the month. Last year's auction poster, also by Corey, was widely acclaimed and won a National Award from the Printing Industries of America. Reynolds-DeWalt of New Bedford donated the printing of the 1979 poster and will produce this year's as well.

Year after year, the WHALE auction has turned up articles of interest from area residents and businesses, everything from a digital depth finder to Queen Anne furniture to Great Uncle Horatio's top hat and General Sheridan's commode.

Committee members are now contacting potential donors, and they urge anyone willing to contribute their auctionables or their time to call the WHALE office at 996-6913 or 997-1776.

Shipbuilders of Mattapoisett

Paper read at meeting of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society July 15th, 1937 at the home of F. Gilbert Hinsdale, Mattapoisett.

This is No. 66 in the series of sketches of New Bedford's Early History of the Old Dartmouth Historical Sketches of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society, incorporated in 1903.

SHIPBUILDERS OF MATTAPOISETT

By Charles S. Mendell, Jr.

The building of each ship called for an elaborate contract specifying each item in great detail. From the nails in the hull to the varnish on the topmast, not a thing was left understood, and any change of these sacred decisions required weighty deliberation. For instance, in the spring of 1856 Josiah Holmes Jr. & Brother were building the Bark Sunbeam for J. & W. R. Wing of New Bedford. Everything had, of course, been definitely stated, but the builder wanted to move the mizzenmast further forward. The following is the reply of the Wing firm:

"Messrs. J. Holmes Jr. & Brother--

On thinking the matter over conserning the mizzenmast, we have concluded and consented to have it moved one foot farther forward and no more -- so says Abner, and we agree with him in the matter."

In the voluminous correspondence that the shipbuilding industry entailed, a foreign note now and then intrudes, as in this letter from one of Josiah Holmes Jr.'s Quaker business associates:

New Bedford
Mar. 20, 1856

Friend Josiah --

I send thee, perhaps at the eleventh hour, my very low terms for the spar job you mentioned about.

It is, the Snug little Sum of five hundred and Seventy-five dollars, with wood for the caps included.

If it "Strikes you favorably" I will buy the mahogany from you, provided you will trust me--

I remain the humble aspirant for the good heart and fair hand of some sweet looking Quakeress "in good standing".

Faithfully yours, R. Beetle.

ways in Mattapoisett Harbor. Time permits of speaking of only two of these -- the Platina, which had the distinction, while sailing for the firm of J. & W. R. Wing, of capturing the only white whale ever taken; and the Ship Acushnet, which was, I suppose, the whaleship having the greatest claim to fame. The Acushnet was built in 1840 by G. Barstow & Son in their yard at the foot of Pearl Street, and on her maiden voyage from Fairhaven she carried as one of her crew, Herman Melville who immortalized the whaling saga in his "Moby Dick". The log of that first voyage seems irretrievably lost, and if found would be worth a fortune. The log of her second voyage, when she sailed under Capt. William B. Rogers of Mattapoisett, reposes peacefully in the Harvard Library; but alas, this is not the one we want. In all probability, the Acushnet was almost exactly like the Charles W. Morgan. True, one was built in Mattapoisett and the other in New Bedford, but their launchings were less than a year apart, and their dimensions and tonnage were practically the same. The Acushnet was lost on her third voyage on St. Lawrence Island August 16, 1851.

The shipyard owners, of course, ran their whole shipbuilding business, but often they seem not to have taken direct charge of the construction of the vessels. This actual designing and building of the ship was superintended by a master carpenter, or master builder. There were many of these in Mattapoisett, but the best seem to have been the four Cannon brothers -- Arvin, James, Watson, and David. There was a whole slew of Cannon shipcarpenters -- all expert craftsmen -- but these four sons of the shipbuilder Eliakim Cannon were the finest of the lot.

They were all master builders for the various Mattapoisett yards, but Arvin was the real master craftsman. I suppose that Arvin Cannon of Mattapoisett and Reuben Fish of Fairhaven were the finest ship designers and builders along this part of the coast; and certainly in the whaleship building industry no one ranked above them. Whenever a Mattapoisett shipbuilder got a contract to build a ship, he scurried after Arvin as fast as he could leg it. Arvin built for New Bedford and Fairhaven such well-known whalers as the Belle, the Sylph, the Oliver Crocker, the Arctic, the Northern Light, the Siren Queen, the Eliza, the South Seaman, the Gay Head, and the Wanderer.

David Cannon was the grandfather of Mr. John Shaw 2nd of New Bedford. During the Civil War he, along with others, went to the Charlestown Navy Yard to build ships for the Government. When an old man he had a shock while working around the mill at Dexter Elm. It is related that when someone rushed to his home on North Street and told his wife, she put her hands on her hips and exclaimed:

"David Cannon had a shock! Well! I've

Wildlands Trust

A beautiful piece of Cape Cod land has been added next to the Mink Cove Reservation in Wareham; a gift from William L. Elkins of Wareham. This makes the 5th parcel of land placed in conservation perpetuity in Wareham; totaling about 300 acres the PLYMOUTH COUNTY WILDLANDS TRUST now holds in the towns of Wareham, Rochester, Kingston, Plymouth and Manomet.

Eight directors, trustees and members of the PCWT walked over this and other reservations January 26th accompanied by Forester A. B. Mason who suggested ways to improve management of some reservations. Covered in the walk were 23 acre "Conant Hill" located on the curve of the Weweantic River and Horseshoe Pond, Wareham. This parcel of white pine and oak woodland was given to the PCWT in 1977 by Dr. and Mrs. John Lincoln of Wareham. Adjoining parcels walked included a marsh, upland and woodland, given by Leon Caron, Grace Minot Peirce and John M. Wylde.

Land given by gift, or conservation restriction to the PCWT, remains in its natural state for future generations study, as well as pleasure. Transfer of ownership to the PCWT relieves the giver of tax burdens, and assures preservation of the land in its original state. Gifts are recognized by the IRS as tax deductible contributions. The PCWT is governed by a board of Trustees and Directors consisting of highly professional volunteers.
